

EXPLORE BELA-BELA

Tambuki Camp - Sondela Nature Reserve

WELCOME TO BELA-BELA, WHERE THE WEATHER IS WARM, THE WATER IS WARM & THE WELCOME EVEN WARMER

Welcome to our beautiful town, Bela-Bela! With roughly 22 000 beds available throughout our resorts, lodges, hotels, caravan parks, golf estates, guest houses, bed & breakfast and bush camps and loads of fun to explore, we just know that you will have a wonderful stay!

Bela-Bela derived its name from the geothermic hot springs which is well-known even in other parts of the world. The hot spring is located at Warmbaths, a Forever Resort and it produces a constant 22 000 litres per hour at 52°C. The springs were discovered in the 1800s and led to the town being a favourite holiday resort since Paul Kruger days! We suggest you visit the resort to see the source and majestic bronze sculpture that adjoins it. It is quite an experience to feel the heat which is exhumed from the eye of the source and a nice learning opportunity for kids.

Of further interest is that the depth of the source could never be clearly estimated, and the temperature and volume of the water has not changed since the resort was first built.

Today Bela-Bela is a much-loved tourism destination. The sunny weather and range of leisure facilities and interesting places to visit, makes this the perfect place to hide out for a while. Do take time to explore all that our town has to offer – there are so many lovely resorts and reserves, hiking trails, game drives and adventure activities to choose from!

Explore Bela-Bela regularly visits the famous farm stall, Toeka se Dae, where pap and kailings on the menu is a firm favourite. Toeka se Dae is well-stocked with an array of jams, biltong, dried fruit and gifts, but the most delightful is the heavenly smell of freshly baked bread that entices you upon entering. The restaurant is ever so popular, as can be seen on Fridays and Sundays as visitors enter and leave town. So, if you have missed this farm stall on your way in to town, be sure not to miss it on your way out!

A visit to The Big Cat Sanctuary at Mabalingwe Nature Reserve, ZA Cheetah Experience or Warmbaths Zoo is very educational as well as entertaining. All these local parks offer a large variety of leopard, cheetah, lion and other cats and animals - all rescued and cared for by the wonderful staff who would gladly give you a tour and tell you more!

Many of our resorts and guesthouses offer spa treatments, please book in advance to enjoy a health or beauty treatment. So spoil yourself and be pampered!

A big favourite is Bela Mall, located just outside of Bela-Bela on the R101 towards Pienaarsrivier. The shopping mall offers a large array of national stores, liquor stores, butcheries, take-away outlets and restaurants.

Nature conservation is very close to our hearts and we encourage you to explore the many animal parks, conservation centres and nature reserves. Nothing blows away the city cobwebs like a refreshing game drive on an open vehicle or on horse-back!

And for golfers, one of our golf estates, Elements Private Golf Reserve, has just been voted 10th in SA and #1 in Limpopo. Another firm favourite is Zebula Golf Estate and Spa, designed by Peter Matkovitch. Go and enjoy these courses and see why!

Bela-Bela offers lots of outdoor sport events, do look out for mountain bike races, marathons and other sporting events with more information available on our Facebook page, Waterberg Tourism Bela-Bela.

Enjoy your visit, be safe and be sure to return soon!

The history of Bela-Bela & the discovery of the hot mineral springs

THE ORIGINATION OF BELA-BELA TOWN

When the Tswana tribes first moved into the region in about the 1800s, they discovered strong mineral springs that flows out of the Earth at a rate of 22 000 litres of water per hour with a temperature of 52°C. This water gave rise to the eventual establishment of the town of Warmbaths. The water from these springs are rich in sodium chloride, calcium carbonate and other salts that are highly beneficial to those suffering from rheumatic ailments.

Originally the Voortrekker, Carel Van Heerden, established the first farm in this area at the mineral springs and called it Het Bad.

At this time the area in and around the mineral springs was a marshland where great numbers of wild animals were trapped and died in the mud. When the marshes were eventually drained, the skeletons of numerous animals, including elephant, were found.

The legend of Buiskop is also rather interesting.

Buiskop, situated approximately six kilometres north of Bela Bela, is a well known and historical summit. It was used as a halfway house during the Republican days for the mail coach that travelled between Pretoria and Polokwane.

The mountain was also found to contain a sandstone formation and this stone was used for the erection of a portion of Pretoria's Union Buildings.

Buiskop owes its name to Coenraad De Buys, a renegade who was forced to flee the Cape Colony at the beginning of the 19th Century. He fled North and with his two sons Machiel and Gabriel and a number of natives as bodyguards.

According to tradition they incurred the wrath of a number of local tribesmen in the area, were driven to the mountain and encircled. The tribesmen tried to get them to surrender by thirst. However, eight days later De Buys made his appearance and dumbfounded the tribesmen who were expecting surrender. They saw him swinging a skin of water over the top of the mountain and declaring that he had certain higher powers on his side that enabled him to get water on the dry mountain top.

Terrified by this state of affairs the tribesmen decided to cease hostilities and put an end to the siege of Buiskop.

In 1873 President Burger of the then South African Republic (ZAR) first saw the tourism and recreational potential that Het Bad had to offer. He proposed the purchase of the farm to the ZAR. The ZAR at first refused the proposal but when President Burger wanted to purchase Het Bad from his own funds they accepted the proposal. Het Bad was renamed Hartingsburg, after the prominent Dutch biologist Pieter Harting.

Christina Pretorius, wife of the well-known Voortrekker leader, Andries Pretorius, passed away after a bout of flu and was buried in the area. She was brought here in the hope that the mineral waters would restore her health.

During the Anglo-Boer war the British annexed Hartingsburg and renamed it Warm Baths.

On 14 June 2002 the South African government officially renamed the town Bela-Bela (meaning "boiling boiling").

THE BRITISH BLOCK HOUSE OF BELA-BELA

Near Bela-Bela's train station, on municipal grounds, the well-preserved, mostly original sandstone blockhouse can be found.

Double-storey, approximately 6x6m in size, 9 meters high. The thick walls are for protection, as well as to try to control the temperature. The roof, floors, and stairs are also still original. The windows and doors are protected with iron plates with shooting holes.

On both sides is a balcony made of the same steel as doors and windows. The purpose of the balcony was for protection so that there is a good view of the walls of the blockhouse so that no one can hide against the wall outside the line of fire of the shooting holes.

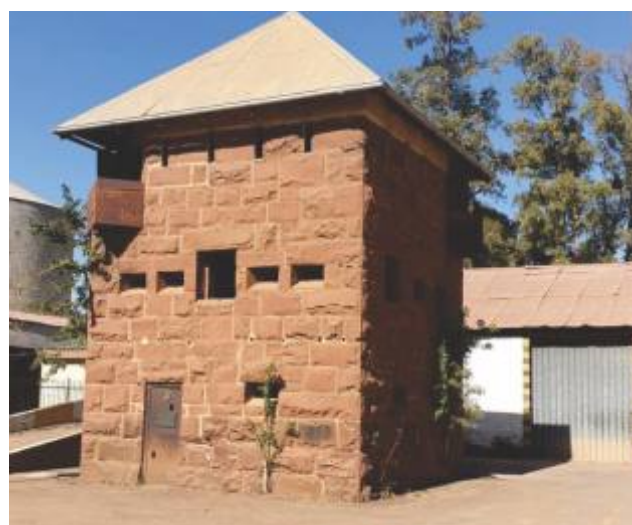

Inside, stonework is used to seal the roof where sandstone openings were left.

Australian troops were stationed at this Warmbad Blockhouse. During the ABO (Anglo-Boer War), there was no action at the blockhouse itself.

The tombstone of Carel van Heerden, the original owner of "Het Bad"

The British Blockhouse is located inside the Municipal testing grounds near the silo's.

SAVING OUR PRECIOUS WILDLIFE FROM EXTINCTION

Cheetah Experience is a registered non-profit endangered species breeding centre. We are home to a number of endangered and threatened species, including cheetahs, leopards, male non-breeding lions, servals, caracals, African wildcats, wolves, meerkats and a Siberian tiger. Our project takes in rescued animals from the local region. Our mission is to raise awareness of the vulnerability of South African species and other endangered species through educational experiences, as well as ethically breeding cheetahs in captivity and releasing them into a protected wild.

We offer visitors a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to come on an educational tour and learn about our animals, see them up close, take some amazing photos, and learn how you can join us in the fight to protect these precious species. We offer a wide range of Volunteer and Internship Programs, which have seen over 1000 hard-working, dedicated people from 33 countries come and be a special part of the Cheetah Experience Global Volunteer Family, and contribute to conservation in South Africa.

At Cheetah Experience, our animals come first. We work alongside other ethical and responsible projects to help secure the Cheetahs' future survival. From a study in 2016, the global population of the cheetah is estimated at ±7,100 individuals, and confined to 9% of their historical distributional range.

Our vision is to release more animals into a protected yet self-sustaining natural habitat where they are still monitored by researchers and medical experts but live free. Understanding their needs, behaviour, and instincts plays a key role in saving animals from extinction.
